THE 4C™ ADVANTAGE

*Strengthening
Christian Schools
Through College
Counseling Resources*

The vision behind 4C™ is simple: Christian schools are stronger as a cooperative. By pooling trusted college counseling resources into one comprehensive platform, 4C™ equips schools to better prepare students and families for college admissions success while reinforcing a strong Biblical worldview.

4C™ was created specifically to support Christian school counselors by providing students and parents with the tools they need for every stage of the college admissions journey—including SAT and ACT preparation, college exploration, admissions connections, scholarship opportunities, and academic advising.

Schools receive unlimited access to all 4C™ resources through an affordable annual subscription with no surprise fees or hidden costs.

In many cases, 4C™ also qualifies for Federal Title funding, allowing schools to provide these services with little to no impact on their operating budget. The 4C™ team works directly with schools to help maximize available funding opportunities.

Every resource within 4C™ is intentionally curated to strengthen both college readiness and the Christian mission of your school.

Biblically Integrated SAT & ACT Curriculum

4C™ equips schools with curriculum resources for faculty, counselors, students, and parents. Schools receive access to curriculum guides, e-textbooks, classroom handouts, and online practice materials specifically developed through 4C's Christian worldview learning components and Apologetic Model™ of Reasoning.

Whether your school needs a complete SAT/ACT test prep roadmap or supplemental classroom materials, 4C™ provides resources that strengthen both academic performance and Biblical integration.

THE APOLOGETIC MODEL™ FOR ACT & SAT SUCCESS

At the core of 4C's ACT and SAT preparation is The Apologetic Model™—a reasoning framework derived from Christian apologetics. Apologetics teaches students how to evaluate truth claims, examine evidence, think logically, and defend conclusions with clarity and confidence.

These same skills are foundational to success on the ACT and SAT. Today's exams measure far more than memorization. Students must analyze arguments, interpret data, and determine which answers are most logically supported by the evidence provided. Success depends on critical thinking and disciplined reasoning.

The Apologetic Model™ trains students to ask:

- What is true?
- What evidence supports this answer?
- What conclusion is most logical?

By consistently applying this framework, students learn to avoid assumptions, think clearly, and answer questions with confidence and precision.

This model also prepares students for the intellectual challenges of college. Research shows that nearly 60–70% of church-attending students disengage from church during their college years, often because they feel unprepared to answer difficult questions about faith and worldview. University faculty also identify as atheist or agnostic at much higher rates than the general public, exposing students to competing truth claims in the classroom.

By integrating apologetic reasoning into test preparation, 4C™ equips students with more than academic skills. Students develop critical thinking, discernment, intellectual confidence, and a lifelong framework for pursuing truth.

More Than Test Prep

4C™ helps students build:

- Stronger ACT & SAT reasoning skills
- Critical thinking and discernment
- Confidence under pressure
- Academic and spiritual resilience

More than improved scores—students gain the ability to think clearly, defend truth, and navigate college and culture with confidence.

Test Prep Services

As colleges increasingly return to standardized testing requirements for admissions and scholarships, strong ACT and SAT preparation is becoming essential once again.

4C™ test prep courses are taught using curriculum written by the same educational team that developed our Christian worldview SAT and ACT materials—providing students with instruction grounded in both academic excellence and Biblical truth.
